

Branding Guidelines

Lily Pad Landing Animal Conservatory

Brand Overview

Lily Pad Landing is an animal conservatory in the southeastern United States that specializes in the conservation of wetland animals. While the brand's identity uses frog motifs, the brand protects more than just frogs.

Logo “Frog Print”

Represents the foot of a frog on a lily pad.

Wordmark

Typefaces

All header text will be used in the brand's signature "pond" blue, and all body text will be used in the brand's signature "citrus" orange. Exceptions include monochromatic compositions, i.e. header text and body text will be the same color.

Header Text

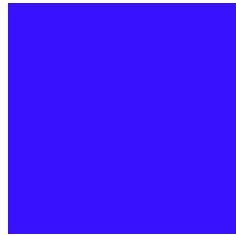

Gigalypse

Body Text

Optima Bold

Color Palette

Primary Colors

#3812ff
Pond

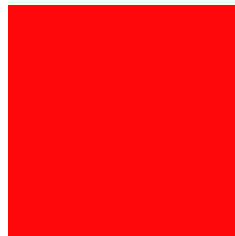

#1ed94f
Anura

#ff5f1f
Citrus

Accent Colors

#3812ff
Cherry

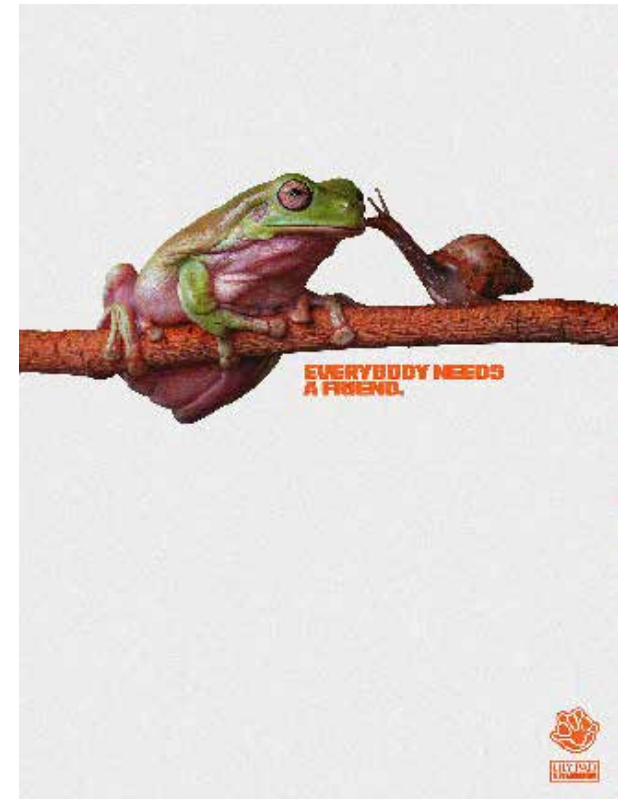

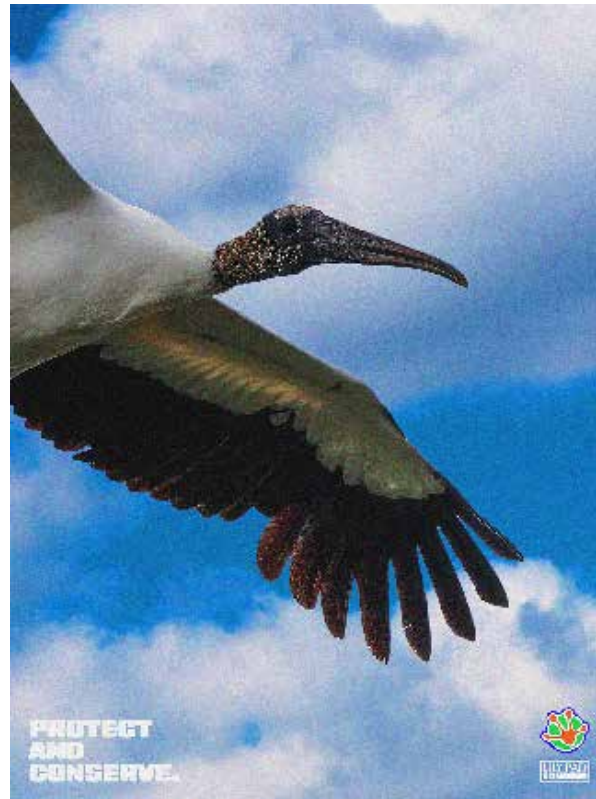

#f8e122
Canary

Tone

The tone of the branding is supposed to be mostly serious with a hint of fun. The bright colors are used to due to their frequent appearances in nature and their fun and attention grabbing vibrance. Animal conservation is an serious issue, so its important to emphasize it's seriousness while also leaning into the fun of animals and our love of animals. This way people feel emotionally connected to the brand and motivated to engage with it.

Usage Examples

PROTECT AND CONSERVE.

EVERYBODY NEEDS A FRIEND.

